Organizing Committee extends a cordial invitation to the scientists and young researchers to participate in the International Conference on Frontiers at the Chemistry-Allied Sciences Interface (FCASI-2018) to be held on 21-22 December, 2018 at the Department of Chemistry, University of Rajasthan, Jaipur, India.

The conference is aimed to encourage collaborative interactions between chemists and researchers of other allied sciences so as to contribute to the inclusive and sustainable development of related industries. The amalgamation of the tools and doctrine of chemistry, together with the tools of life sciences will also help researchers to understand the processes required for developing novel compounds for fighting diseases and improving human health and comfort. This conference will induce scientists to pursue boundary crossing lines of investigation and will help young researchers to obtain knowledge in disciplines generally outside their normal academic and research experience. The integrated, multi-science and translational approach will help them become independent, innovative scientists in academic or industrial settings. Further, the conference will provide additional opportunities for doctoral students to gain exposure to scientific concepts and methods from chemical and other sciences.
